POWER TO THE PEOPLE
BAYANIHAN FEDERALISM

POWER TO THE REGIONS

DRAFT CONSTITUTION FOR A STRONG, INDISSOLUBLE REPUBLIC

Since we are talking about the word federalism, let's make one thing clear. There is only one standard of what a federal system is or is not. The United States of America.

Will the regions be invested the same powers wielded by the fifty American states?

Is there going to be a Grand Region of Cebu that can stand up to Imperial Manila?

They say power to the people, so, are we going to see an end to the Cebuano people being overpowered by Tagalog?

Let us find out together how good this alleged federal constitution is.

PREAMBLE

We, the sovereign Filipino people, imploring the aid of Almighty God, to build a permanent and indissoluble nation and establish a just, humane, united, and progressive society under a government that shall embody our shared ideals and aspirations, promote the common good, conserve and develop our patrimony, and secure to ourselves and our posterity the blessings of independence and democracy under the rule of law and a regime of truth, justice, freedom, love, equality, and peace, do ordain and promulgate this Constitution of the Federal Republic of the Philippines.

ARTICLE I NATIONAL TERRITORY

SECTION 1. The Philippines has sovereignty over its territory, consisting of the islands and waters encompassed by its archipelagic baselines, its territorial sea, the seabed, the subsoil, and its airspace. It has sovereignty over islands and features outside its archipelagic baselines pursuant to the laws of the Federal Republic, the law of nations, and the judgments of competent international courts or tribunals. It likewise has sovereignty over other territories belonging to the Philippines by historic right or legal title.

SECTION 2. The Philippines has sovereign rights over that maritime expanse beyond its territorial sea to the extent reserved to it by international law, as well as over its extended continental shelf, including the Philippine Rise. Its citizens shall enjoy the right to all resources within these areas.

ARTICLE II DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES AND STATE POLICIES

PRINCIPLES

SECTION 1. The Philippines is a democratic and republican State. Sovereignty resides in the people and all government authority emanates from them. The Republic shall at all times uphold federalism, national unity, and territorial integrity.

SECTION 2. The Philippines renounces war as an instrument of national policy, adopts the generally accepted principles of international law as part of the law of the land, and adheres to the policy of peace, equality, justice, freedom, cooperation, and amity with all nations.

SECTION 3. Civilian authority is, at all times, supreme over the military. The government is the protector of the people and the Federal Republic. The armed forces of the Philippines shall secure the sovereignty of the Republic and the integrity of its national territory. The government may call upon the people to defend the Federal Republic and render personal military or civil service under conditions provided by federal law.

SECTION 4. The recognition of fundamental freedoms, the observance of the rule of law, and the promotion of sustainable human development are essential for the enjoyment by the people of the benefits of a democratic republican federal government.

SECTION 5. The separation of the church and the State shall be inviolable.

Relations between them shall be governed by benevolent neutrality.

"The Philippines is a State"
"separation of church state"
The rest of this 116 page draft will prove what is actually meant.

STATE POLICIES

SECTION 6. The Federal Republic shall pursue an independent foreign policy. In establishing relations with other states, its paramount consideration shall be national sovereignty, territorial integrity, national interest, and the right to self-determination.

SECTION 7. The Philippines, consistent with the national interest, adopts and pursues a policy of freedom from weapons of mass destruction in its territory.

SECTION 8. The Federal Republic shall maintain honesty, integrity, and efficiency in the public service and take positive, effective, deterrent, and punitive measures against graft and corruption.

SECTION 12. The Federal Republic shall promote social justice in all phases of national development.

SECTION 13. The Federal Republic values the dignity of every person and guarantees full respect for the person and the right of all citizens to participate in all government processes.

SECTION 14. The Federal Republic recognizes the sanctity of family life and shall protect and strengthen the family as a basic autonomous social institution. It shall equally protect the life of the mother and the life of the unborn from conception. The natural and primary right and duty of parents in the rearing of the youth for civic efficiency and the development of moral character shall receive the support of the government.

SECTION 15. The Federal Republic recognizes the vital role of the youth in nation-building and shall promote and protect their physical, moral, spiritual, intellectual, and social well-being. It shall inculcate in the youth patriotism and nationalism, and encourage their constructive involvement in public and civic affairs.

Why?

SECTION 16. The Federal Republic recognizes the role of women in nation-building and in all aspects of national life, and shall ensure the fundamental equality of women and men before the law.

Excuse for Big Brother Government: gender politics, health, ecology. Nationalism. Socialism.

SECTION 21. The Federal Republic shall develop an independent and competitive national economy actually and effectively controlled by Filipinos.

SECTION 22. The Federal Republic recognizes the indispensable role of the private sector in national development and encourages private enterprise. The State shall provide incentives to needed investments.

SECTION 26. The Federal Republic recognizes the vital role of information communication technology in nation-building.

SECTION 27. The Federal Republic shall promote the autonomy of local government units in line with the principle of subsidiarity and in accord with federalism.

If you disagree with the framework, the "Federal" Republic will destroy you?
And by the way, why has the word indigenous been redefined in the Philippines to only mean small tribes to the exclusion of major ethnic nations such as Ilocano?

All doubts shall be resolved in favor of the right of the people to a healthful and balanced ecology.

I never thought I would live to see the day where there is this really long-winded bill of rights that opens the possibility of death penalty, outlines surveillance parameters and inserts a Tagalog word.

ARTICLE VI

PEOPLE'S INITIATIVE, PLEBISCITE, AND REFERENDUM

SECTION 2. People's initiative shall be commenced by filing with the Federal Commission on Elections a verified petition and the draft of the proposal which shall embrace only one subject expressed in the title thereof.

The proponents may avail themselves of the services of the Office of the Solicitor General or Integrated Bar of the Philippines in the drafting and processing of the proposal and the petition, free of charge.

SECTION 3. A petition for people's initiative shall comply with the following signature requirements:

(a) A proposal to revise the Constitution shall be accompanied by the signature of voters representing at least thirty percent (30%) of the votes cast in the last preceding national elections, of which every Federated Region must be represented by at least ten percent (10%) of the signatures of such voters;

(b) The Federal Commission on Elections may, on its own, refer the proposed initiative measure to the Federal Constitutional Court for advisory opinion on its constitutionality.

(c) If the Federal Constitutional Court issues a determination that the proposal does not suffer from any constitutional infirmity, the Federal Commission on Elections shall certify the measure and submit it to a plebiscite or referendum in the next succeeding national election; Provided, that the schedule is not earlier than six (6) months from such certification. If no national election is scheduled within one (1) year from the certification of the proposed measure, the Federal Commission on Elections may set the date of the plebiscite or referendum.

SECTION 5. During the period for the conduct of plebiscite or referendum, the Federal Commission on Elections shall ensure the public dissemination of information on the proposed initiative measure, which shall include the following:

(a) Production and distribution, as far as practicable, to the registered voters of pamphlets containing the title of the proposed measure, its full text, and its summary;

SECTION 9. Within two (2) years from the adoption of the Constitution, every Regional Assembly shall enact the laws for the exercise of people’s initiative on matters within their respective jurisdiction; Provided, that no regional people’s initiative shall be allowed without the signature of voters representing at least ten percent (10%) of the votes cast in the preceding election in the region.

SECTION 10. The Congress shall appropriate an annual budget for people’s initiative, which shall be automatically released to the Federal Commission on Elections.

They should not call it People's Initiative if groups of ordinary people will not have a Chinaman's chance of pulling off a direly needed amendment. This would actually require a very highly organized effort by a determined national government controlled by somebody like Duterte to be even remotely feasible.

ARTICLE VII LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The people, pursuant to the provisions on initiative, plebiscite, and referendum, may directly exercise legislative power.

They shall continue in office until their successors shall have been elected, proclaimed, and qualified.

These are no federal bodies going by the real sense of the word but are in reality the same national commissions we have today. The rest, especially Elections, retain their present centralized functions and will continue to perform as the imperial capital of Manila commands. Change in name only.

Question

Why all that stuff for Cordillera but nothing for Pampanga which is miles away a much more viable state that will autonomously sustain itself throughout a robust political and economic existence?

16 Region-States are set to be arbitrarily aggregated from among the rest of the provinces and they will not have a directly elected Governor. Bangsamoro and Cordillera are accorded special treatment as if only they possess the inherent requisites for the privilege of federalization. They call it asymmetry but it is more accurate to call it abomination. I do not know how a fabricated region like Cordillera that is culturally fragmented can be politically cohesive.

With the exception of Bangsamoro, the 15 Region-States are but nominal federal subdivisions that have no autonomy. The best comparison is China where they have autonomous provinces whose stature is worse than a colony.

Do not even mention the additional tax burdens that the Region-States may impose on residents and local businesses. Tax windfalls will remain the monopoly of Imperial Manila because the companies that sell the goods and services you consume are headquartered there. Fuel, cellphone loads, processed foodstuff and beverages, television advertising, imported products, etcetera, etc.

Call it federal as many times as you like. But it will still function like a unitary system fully under the control of Imperial Manila because no amount of magical illusions result in regional empowerment under a constitution that only pretends to give it. Drawing all this to an organizational chart, the traditional centralist hierarchy structure is obvious, nowhere will you see a union of states, just a pen of slaves.

Whether a constitution is a brilliant masterpiece or piece of garbage, it should not be so sacrosanct as to be virtually amendment-proof like the Cory one. All regions majority is mandatory? And then the regional assemblies do not even take a part in the ratification process. That is not federal.

What the Congressmen can do with this

Number one

Do not call this federal because this is not federal.

Number two

This is a better constitution outlining a slightly better political system compared to the Cory one. But for the love of heaven do not make it as impossible to modify the same as the Cory one. If you are serious in moving away from overcentralization and false democracy, make the legislative branch the most powerful instead of the executive and judiciary and their unelected bureaucracy. Allow the unicameral national Congress to pass constitutional amendments subject only to simple majority ratification by majority of regional legislatures. Maybe you can retain a small senate but add a minimum age requirement, centenarian plus 1.

Number three

A bad constitution goes a long way in ruining a country but experience should have taught us that pretending to have the perfect constitution makes it even worse. The law is there to serve man and not the other way around. A 100 percent improvement can be had by removing 50 percent of this draft's contents. Language is a good place to start deleting.

SECTION 15. All properties, records, equipment, buildings, facilities, and other assets of any office or body abolished or reorganized under the Constitution shall be transferred to the office or body to which its powers, functions, and responsibilities substantially pertain.

Good job done, drafters, better than the one made by the PDP-Laban guy. Have to admit the thing I hate most is the name Bayanihan. It's still unacceptably very, very centralized, and mainly intended to be an excuse for Bangsamoro.

Your grade is F.
